MONDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1866.

THE republican journals in the interior of New York are advocating the election of Mr. Horace Greeley to the United States Senate in place of Mr. Ira Harris, whose term of service will expire on the 4th of next March. Mr. Greeley was a formidable competitor for the place, though without his solicitation and procurement, when Mr. Harris was chosen. He is by large odds, the most able and influential man in his State, and this recognition of his capacities and services would not only be graceful on the part of his political associates, but would be of great advantage to the country, which stands in need of its wisest and purest sons in high positions.

The only competitor to Mr. Greeley named so far is Mr. George W. Curtis, who is decidedly able and upright, but whose claims are not at all comparable to those of the great journalist.

ALL MEN who are not hopelessly blinded by passions perceive the significance of the late elections. The New York World, than which few journals are keener sighted, declares, in view of the popular manifestations, that President JOHNSON is "powerless, during the residue of his term, in all contested questions of domestic politics," and that "it would be futile for him to contend longer with the Radicals in respect to the South." Precisely so. Now, if the President would cease his factious endeavors, and submit to the inevitable, the whole matter of reconstruction would be accomplished on such a basis that the people of both sections, in after ages, would unite in commending as patriotic, humane and beneficent.

IT is announced—we trust without authority—that United States troops are about to be sent into Mexico. Of course, there is no authority of law for such an expedition. We are not at war with Mexico; are not menaced by that country; have no cause of quarrel with it; and no law exists authorizing military intervention in its behalf. The President has just as much, and no more, authority to send an army into France or Russia, as into Mexico.

THE President begins to feel that he has incurred a crushing weight of odium for his share in the New Orleans massacre, and is endeavoring to shift the responsibility to the shoulders of Secretary Stanton. That personage may have been negligent or culpable; but in view of established facts the President will have hard work to make any body believe his action would have been different from what it was had the dispatch of General Baird been laid before him.

LIEUT.-GEN. SHERMAN and Minister Campbell have finally started on a voyage to see it they can discover the Mexican Republic. They go to Vera Cruz. If they find any sort of a government that will stand respectably for twelve months, they will take precedence of all the discoverers whose exploits are recorded in history. Perhaps they go to find something that will not stand without help.

A GOOD many Conservative and Democratic "ducks" were killed at the late elections, and the pressure on the President for offices for them is immense. Indeed, most of them seem to have been candidates that they might plead martyrdom, and demand recompense. The Senate will doubtless have something to say about fastening on the Treasury these hoards of men whom the people have rejected.

THE Baltimore Gazette states complainingly that Gov. Swann made a requisition upon Gen. Canby for troops to prevent the arrest of the new Police Commissioners and was refused. It also condemns Gen. Grant for publicly denouncing Governor Swann's course as unwise. These may be taken as indications that army officers will not readily be made tools of by the President.

IT is stated that in view of the election results several of the Southern Governors have applied to the President for instructions as to what they and their States ought to do. They ought to understand by this time that Congress is the "Captain's office," at which settlement is to be made.

* * *

THE returns from Michigan are not all in. So far the majority of the Republican candidate for Governor is 24,431, with twenty-four counties to hear from. These remaining counties are expected to swell the majority to 27,000—a gain of 10,000 over 1864.

* * *

THE Republican majority in New York continues to increase as the returns from the interior counties get in. It will approach 16,000. What a glorious commonwealth New York would be, but for the city, where commerce taints about all it touches!

THE elections are reported to have produced one effect on the President—they have stopped the pardon business. It is well the President at last comprehends the Government does not belong to him, and that there are powers to which he is amenable.

THE Chicago Journal says that as far as heard from the Republicans have made a gain in Illinois of two State Senators and seven members of the lower house of the Legislature. The Democrats insist no farther reports shall be made.

THE Missouri Democrat chronicles with pride the fact that on the day the Radical victory in Missouri was announced the Bonds of that State went up eight per cent. That is the financial estimate of radicalism.

IN Missouri the Radicals have full two-thirds of each branch of the Legislature. The St. Louis Democrat of Friday says the Radicals have certainly elected seven of the nine Congressmen.

IN Illinois General Logan, who ran for Congress as the Republican candidate at large, has an estimated majority of 52,000, being a gain of 20,000 on the result two years ago.

IN Wisconsin the Republican majority is estimated at 25,000. In the Legislature the Republicans are stronger than last year.

The Rain of Fire—A Letter from Yale College—Important Instructions to Observers.

NEW YORK, November 10.—The Post has received the following communication from Prof. Loomis, of Yale College, in relation to the shower of meteors which is expected to take place on the morning of the 14th inst:

On the morning of November 13th, 1833, shooting stars were seen in extraordinary numbers throughout nearly the whole of North America. It was estimated that the number visible at a single station could not have been less than 200,000. The display began about midnight, but was not very remarkable until between two and three o'clock. There is no evidence that any remarkable display of meteors was seen on the same day, either in Europe or Asia. On the morning of November 13th, 1832, unusual numbers of shooting stars were seen throughout Europe. One observer counted forty-eight in four minutes. No unusual display was noticed on the same day in the United States.

On the morning of November 12th, 1799, meteors appeared as numerous as the stars during a period of four hours. This display was noticed throughout Europe and America, and an unusual number of meteors was recorded November 9, 1698; also, near the same season of the year, in 1602, and at several previous dates extending back to the year 902. These facts clearly indicate a cycle of about one-third of a century, and it is probable that there will be a repetition of showers either this year or next, in some part of the world, but we cannot be sure that the principal display will take place in the United States. It will be observed that the day of the year on which the great display occurs changes three days in a century, hence we may look for the greatest display this year on the morning of November 14th. On the morning of November 13th, 1865, four observers at New Haven saw 430 shooting stars in less than two hours, while on the next morning less than half this number could be seen. This fact would lead us to expect the greatest number of meteors this year; also, on the morning of the 13th. It is probable that the number of shooting stars will be considerably greater than the average on the mornings both of the 13th and 14th. The numbers may be expected to be greatest after midnight and increase until the commencement of morning twilight.

The following directions are given to guide observers: In the open air, from a station which commands a good view of the heavens quite down to the horizon. Observations from an open window are of but little value. If it is desired to determine the whole number of meteors visible, at least four observers are necessary; and whenever a meteor is seen its number should be audibly announced, for the purpose of avoiding duplicates. A majority of the November meteors move in paths which seem to diverge from a point or region in the constellation Leo, near the bend of the Sickle. It is important to determine accurately the dimensions and position of this area, from which the meteors radiate; also the proportion of the numbers which do, and those which do not, conform to the general law.

As it is probable that on this occasion there will be a large number of observers at many different places, it will be a favorable opportunity for determining the height of particular meteors; therefore, whenever a meteor appears so remarkable as to attract particular attention, the position of its path among the stars should be located and the beginning and end of the path, the precise time of the observation and the duration of the light, should be carefully estimated. When the length of the path has been determined, the last observation will give the velocity of the meteor, which is an element of the greatest importance with respect to the theory of these bodies.

The Overland Telegraph—Routes Deemed Feasible—Progress of the Work—The Shenandoah Recognized as an English Privateer.

NEW YORK, November 10.—The Herald's correspondent with the Overland Telegraph Expedition, writing from Petropouloski, in Eastern Siberia, gives an encouraging account of the progress of the work. The Russian corvette Variag, a vessel carrying seventeen guns and three hundred men, is detailed to assist in laying the sea lines. The following is a recapitulation of the work on the Russian side of the Pacific: Major Abasa has explored the route between Ghijiga and Okhotsk, and found it feasible for the construction of the telegraph. Capt. Mahood has explored the route from the mouth of the Amoor to Okhotsk, and found it feasible for work. Lieut. Kennon has explored the route from Ghijiga to Anadyrsk, and from that point to Anadyrvary, and found it feasible for the work. Capt. Macrae has traveled among the Tchuchtis, the savage tribes in the northern part of Siberia, and found them entirely friendly. Major Abasa has traveled among the Koriaks and the native Kamchadoles, and found them entirely friendly. Capt. Mahood and Major Abasa have traveled among the Tungusi and other tribes between Ghijiga and the mouth of the Amoor, and found them entirely friendly. The Tungusi revealed to them a route through the mountains, which they have hitherto kept secret for their own uses. Work has been commenced at several points wherever workmen can be procured. Poles were being cut and houses constructed for stations and supply depots. Points have been selected along the Okhotsk Sea for landing supplies and materials for the line. These are mainly at the mouths of rivers that may be used for transportation to the interior. A sufficient number of workmen will be procured at Yokantsk for building the line where the natives are not in abundance or are unwilling to labor. Maj. Aiken has already made the preliminary arrangements for obtaining workmen; materials and supplies will be provided as fast as the ships arrive at Ghijiga.

The correspondent adds that while the Shenandoah was in the North Pacific, in 1865, she burned the whaleship Harvest, belonging to the house of Pfluger Bros., of Honolulu, and sailed under the Hawaiian flag. A statement of the affair was sent to London, and the bill was promptly paid by the British Government. This would seem to be an indirect acknowledgment that the Shenandoah was an English pirate ship rather than a rebel cruiser.

From Mexico—The Liberal Generals and Lawyers Oppose Juarez and Favor Ortego.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9.—Advices from Chihuahua to the 17th of October have been received. Juarez is there with his ministers and eight hundred soldiers. Durango is held by eight hundred Mexican Imperialists and four hundred French. They are expected to fall back on the capital.

Both the Juarez and Imperial governments are exhausted in finances. Juarez is levying forced loans, extraordinary contributions, and confiscating property. His hopes are dependent on a liberal loan by the United States government. He has greatly oppressed American residents, and they have sent a memorial to Washington. Maximilian's prospects are very bad; he must leave with the French.

The Liberal generals and lawyers are understood to favor Ortega, and only recognize Juarez because he is recognized at Washington.

All Northern Mexico, except Durango, is in Liberal hands.

The Mexican territory is clear of Indians.

Movement of the Stephens Fenians.

NEW YORK, November 10.—The Express says: There was considerable excitement at the headquarters of Stephens, from an early hour this morning, caused by numbers of persons calling to learn intelligence respecting movements of the C. O. F. R. The opinion appears to be fast gaining ground that several Irish merchants in the city have warmly espoused the cause, and will place vessels at the disposal of Stephens. That he will take advantage of their kindness is more than probable, but not to any extent, as no reliance is placed in using force with a naval expedition; a landing is only necessary, and then the future fate of Ireland will be decided by strength in the field. It is barely possible that the Atlantic Cable may suddenly cease to speak in a short time on this side, but whether it will be cut or captured, is a question which must be in abeyance for the present.

FENIAN TRIALS.

Conviction of Wm. Hayden, and Sentence to Death.

TORONTO, November 10.—After an ineffectual effort to secure a further delay, the case of the Queen vs. Wm. Hayden was ordered on for trial, and the prisoner was brought in. Hayden is about twenty years of age, with a light complexion and blue eyes. The prisoner, by direction of his counsel, pleaded "not guilty." The jury were then sworn.

John Metcalf testified that he was at the battle of Ridgeway, where the Canadian volunteers were attacked, and saw several killed and wounded.

Joseph Newvigging testified that on the morning of the first of June, he saw four canal boats towed across the Niagara river by two tug boats; the canal boats contained several hundred men. The prisoner was amongst them. He was armed with a rifle and had a cartridge box slung to a belt around his waist; he was riding a roan horse, which belonged to the Niagara Street Railway of Buffalo. The prisoner spoke to Cramer Pricely, and told him to give him the rest of that money; Pricely pulled out his pocket book and said, "I have very little money; I gave you nearly all I had before." The prisoner said, "Oh no; you have lots of money." Pricely then gave him some eighty-five cents in silver, and asked him if he would keep the boys away, when he said he would do so, as he now had something to treat them with. I heard he made a similar demand on other persons.

Other witnesses were examined, who confirmed the above testimony. For the defence, affidavits as to the prisoner's previous good character was read.

The Court charged the jury very strongly against the prisoner, and the jury retired at ten.

At ten minutes past two the jury returned into Court with a verdict of "Guilty."

Mr. Harrison—I move, my Lord, the judgment of the Court upon the prisoner.

His Lordship—Prisoner, have you anything to say why sentence should not be passed on you?

Prisoner—I have only to say that the three witnesses who have sworn against me that I obtained the money from them by threats, swore falsely, and they have perjured themselves. I simply asked for the money in a friendly way.

The usual proclamation having been made previous to sentence being passed, His Lordship sentenced the prisoner to be hung on the 13th of next month.

Boston Navy Yard Commander—Marine Disasters—Treasury Departments—Appointments by the President—Discharge of Female Clerks.

WASHINGTON, November 10.—Commodore John Rodgers, has been appointed to command the Boston Navy Yard, in place of Admiral Stringham, whose term of service has expired.

Commodore G. W. Cooper, commanding the United States steamer Winooski, reports under date of October 31st, the arrival of his vessel at Mantanzas, Cuba, after a cruize in the Bahamas.

At Abaco, an American barque had gone on shore, and all on board were lost.

The English brig Raven, had been capsized at Great Stirrup Crag, and driven ashore. None had been saved.

On the 22d, Commander Cooper stopped at Nassau, where, at the request of our Consul at that place, five American machinists were taken on board the Winooski for passage to Mantanzas, they having been wrecked on the barque Willis Rich, on the Bahamas.

By an arrival at Nassau, on the 27th, of a schooner from Magua, accounts were received of the entire destruction of the settlement on Turk's Island, and the wrecking of thirty foreign vessels, by the recent hurricane which visited the Bahamas.

The disbursements of the Treasury on account of the War, Navy and Interior Departments during the past week, were as follows: War Department, $514,942; Navy Department, $152,697; Interior Department, $295,370; total, $1,253,009. The National Bank circulation was issued during the week to the amount of $731,250, making a total to date, of $296,986,101. The government hold securities as follows: For circulating notes, $339,858,150; for deposits of public moneys in designated depositories, $39,438,950; total, $379,297,100. Fractional Currency was redeemed in the sum of $238,300; received from the Printing Bureau, $560,500; shipped to National Banks and Depositories, $336,535. The amount of funds in the vaults of the Treasury is as follows: United States Notes, Legal Tenders, $451,329; Fractional Currency, $657,611; Gold, $316,771; Silver, $2,725; other coin, $2,680.

The President to-day made the following appointments: T. J. Gardner, Justice of the Peace for the county of Washington, District of Columbia; William H. H. Taylor, Deputy Postmaster at Cincinnati, Ohio; William O. Hershberg, Postmaster at Fort Madison, Iowa; Albert Seibert, United States Marshal for the district of Oregon; James Wentworth, of Missouri, United States Consul at Moscow, Russia; Charles A. L. Russell, of Iowa, Receiver of Public Moneys, &c., at Sioux City, Iowa; Pelham J. Anderson, of Alabama, Receiver of Public Moneys, &c., at Montgomery, Alabama; Nathan Price, of Kansas, Agent for the Indians of the Kickapoo Agency.

It having been decided by the Secretary of the Interior to have printed, instead of manuscript copies of patent cases prepared by the Superintendent of Public Printing, all the female clerks employed on such work have been discharged.

FROM NEW YORK.

Additional Election Returns—The Bowery Theatre to be Sold at Auction—Street Commissioners Invited to Resign—Increased Patent Business.

NEW YORK, November 10.—Additional returns from the interior of the State increases Gov. Fenton's majority, and it now amounts to about 15,000, with a prospect that it will not be less than that number.

On the 23d of the present month the old Bowery theatre will go under the hammer by order of court. Mr. Fox's lease will expire on the 1st of May next, and in all probability after that date the old Bowery theatre will cease to be used for theatrical purposes.

The News of to-day says: We understand that Mayor Hoffman has invited Messrs. Tweed and Cornell, the Street Commissioners, to resign. In view of the charges of malfeasance and corruption alleged against these gentlemen the Mayor considers that he can not, with safety to the public interest, reappoint them to the responsible office that they have held under suspicion of dishonesty.

The report of the Commissioner of Patents, for the present year, shows a remarkable increase of business. The number of patents now issued weekly averages two hundred. The total number of patents issued for the year will reach nearly ten thousand, against six thousand five hundred for last year, and an average of about 3,000 a year previous to the rebellion. The surplus fund amounts to $250,000, which has chiefly accrued during the last two years.

QUEBEC, C. E., Nov. 10.—A large number of the crew of Her Majesty's steamer Aurora are under orders to hold themselves in readiness to proceed to the western lakes where they will be stationed fo the winter.

Intelligence is received that owing to the failure of the fisheries on the Labrador coast, the north shores are rendered destitute unless relief is immediately provided. The herring fisheries are a complete failure, and the prospects are said to be fearful to contemplate. The Government has placed a steamboat at the disposal of the charitable for the transportation of supplies, which will leave in a few days. Aid of any sort of money or goods may be sent to Rev. Mr. Bolwood, Quebec, C. E.

The Baltimore Trouble—The Habeas Corpus Case—An Extra Session of the Legislature to be Called.

BALTIMORE, November 11.—There is much interest felt to learn the decision of Judge Bartol in the habeas corpus case of the Police Commissioners appointed by Gov. Swann to succeed the old Board, and in the case of Sheriff Thompson, who was arrested and committed for not summoning a posse in answer to the requisition of the newly appointed Commissioners. The decision is expected to cover the whole ground as to the legality of Gov. Swann's action and the consequent legality or illegality of the proceedings in Judge Bond's Court. It is generally believed that Gov. Swann will immediately summon an extra session of the Legislature, when a question of great moment to the people of this State will be submitted for consideration.

Financial Crash Feared in New Orleans—Sailing of our Mexican Commissioners.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov 10.—A New Orleans dispatch says: There are fears in commercial circles of an approaching financial crash, owing to the failure of the cotton crop and scarcity of money.

Major General Sherman embarked this afternoon on board the Susquehanna, for Vera Cruz, in Mexico, having been ordered thither to take care of the interests of the United States. He was accompanied by Colonel Audenreid, of his staff, and Mr. Campbell, the U. S. Minister, with Mr. Plumb, Secretary for the Minister. The departure was witnessed by a large number of persons.

OTTOWA, Nov. 11.—It is understood that Messrs. M'Gee and Galt will sail with the delegates for Europe on Wednesday next, the former as representative for Canada at the Paris Exhibition, and the latter to assist in the completion of the confederation.

LATEST FROM WASHINGTON,

Cabinet Meeting—The President's Message—Mexico—The Case of Dunham—Prayers for the Release of Jeff Davis—Departure of Gen. Fry—National Convention—Important Treasury Circular.

NEW YORK, November 11.—The Herald's Washington special says: The President yesterday laid before the Cabinet certain portions of his annual message. The meeting was somewhat protracted. Various portions of the message were discussed. Our relations with Mexico will occupy a very prominent position in the message. It is certain that the mission of Minister Campbell and General Sherman to Mexico is not for buncombe. It means work.

If, on the arrival of the Susquehanna at Vera Cruz, or any other Mexican port, it is ascertained that neither Maximilian nor the French have left, and evidence is afforded that they do not intend to do so without unnecessary delay, there is reason to believe that the President will recommend to Congress most vigorous measures to expedite their exit. The state of affairs upon their arrival, if not the primary action of the mission, will probably be ascertained by the Government in time for the President to incorporate his definite and decided Mexican policy in his forthcoming message.

The recent letters from Mexico throwing discredit upon the information given to the public through the Mexican Minister, to the effect that the visit of the Emperor to Orizaba was in pursuance of this intention to embark for Europe, are believed here to have been written in the interest of the Imperialists. A belief is entertained that Louis Napoleon desires Maximilian to remain in Mexico until the French troops are withdrawn for reasons which none can explain better than himself.

The Grand Jury has made a presentment in the case of Joseph Dunham alias Sanford Conover, for perjury in the sworn evidence given by him as a witness on the assassination trials, and before the House Judiciary Committee.

The National Convention of the Grand Army of the Republic, will assemble at Indianapolis, on Tuesday the 20th, instead of the 25th inst., as heretofore announced.

The following circular, issued to-day from the Treasury Department, is of great importance to holders of United States Seven-Thirty Treasury notes:

TREASURY DEP'T, TREASURER'S OFFICE, }
WASHINGTON, November 10, 1866. }

Payments for interest arising in settlement of Seven-Thirty notes sent to the Secretary of the Treasury for conversion into United States six per cent. bonds, (act of March 3d, 1865,) should be made either in currency or by National Bank draft, drawn on any other National Bank in this or any of the four principal Atlantic cities, which, when collected, will be received in payment of said interest.

When the remittance for such interest is sent in the same enclosure with the notes, provided for conversion, the amount should be specified in the letter, advising the transmission of the notes and the currency or draft enclosed in an envelope addressed to the Treasurer of the United States with the contents marked on the outside. Drafts in payment of interest should in all cases be made payable to the Treasurer of the United States.

Remittances for such interest, when not sent with the notes, should be forwarded directly to the Treasurer of the United States. Parties sending 7-30 notes for conversion should state the denomination of bonds required, and whether they wish registered or coupon bonds. If registered stock is requested, the parties should be particular and state which of the following places they desire the interest payable: Washington, D. C., New York, Philadelphia, Boston, New Orleans, St. Louis, Baltimore, Cincinnati, or Chicago.

Seven-Thirty notes sent to this Department for conversion should be forwarded to the Secretary of the Treasury, to whom all letters in regard to conversion of the said notes should be addressed.

Reward Offered for the Arrest of Murderers.

ST. LOUIS, November 10.—Salt Lake City offers two thousand dollars reward for the apprehension of the assassins of Dr. Robinson, recently murdered there. The citizens, by private subscription, added sixty eight hundred dollars. Brigham Young has subscribed five hundred dollars.

The Maryland Horse Fair.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 11.—The Maryland Horse Fair is announced to take place there this week, commencing on Tuesday. The famous horses Dexter and Patchen are to be present, and there will be trials of speed each day for premiums, ranging from $200 to $4,000. There is a light fall of rain this evening, the wind being southeast.

Wisconsin Election.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

(ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON THIRD PAGE.)

The Pittsburgh Gymnasium—Exhibition and Lecture.

The reconstruction of the Pittsburgh Gymnasium, made necessary by the fall of the roof, and the consequent inundation last spring, is nearly completed. The roof is thoroughly repaired, the apparatus has been re-adjusted and improved, and nearly all the repairs necessary have been completed, so that now the members of the Association, for so long a time debarred from the exercise of their muscular privileges, have resumed, to a great extent, their healthful gyrations. Just now the principal exercises are in rehearsal for the grand exhibition soon to be given by the Association at their rooms. In preparation for this seats have been arranged about the sides of the Gymnasium, and apparatus is being adjusted. On Saturday evening a meeting of the Association was held to make arrangements for the coming occasion. It was decided to give the exhibition on the evening of Thursday, the 22d inst. The best gymnastic talent of the city will take part in the exercises on the evening, the Turners having volunteered for the occasion; and the performances will comprise some most startling and interesting feats, and the whole exhibition can not fail to be of the utmost interest to all. It is to be hoped that a full attendance will be present, as the Association has been to a very considerable expense in conducting the necessary repairs to their rooms, and the proceeds of this exhibition will "come handy."

Mr. Duncan, the Secretary, has opened a correspondence with Dr. Winship, of Boston, the celebrated little Sampson of our day and nation, whose muscular achievements have startled the world, for the purpose of securing his services in the delivery of a lecture before the Association. Mr. Duncan reported at the meeting that the Doctor will certainly deliver his lecture at an early day.

We understand that a number of ladies have volunteered to decorate the hall for the occasion of the exhibition, and will make it beautiful with flowers, evergreens and emblems.

The Pittsburgh Temperance League.

On Friday evening a meeting of the Pittsburgh Temperance League was held at the Central Presbyterian Church, on Smithfield street. After the President, Dr A. G. McCandless, had called the meeting to order the exercises commenced with prayer, offered by Mr. Little. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Captain Charles W. McHenry was then introduced by the Chairman, and delivered an eloquent and appropriate address on the "Great Cause of Temperance."

Dr. Robert Wray followed in a few appropriate remarks.

On motion of John D. Bailey, Esq., it was resolved that the regular meetings of the League be held on the third Friday of each month.

Mr. Little then made some brief remarks in relation to amending the license law, so as to have licenses granted but twice a year. Dr. Wray and President McCandless also spoke on the same subject.

Dr. Wray moved that the Chairman, Dr. McCandless, John D. Bailey, Esq., and Capt. Chas. W. McHenry, be appointed a committee to wait on the Judges of the Court and ascertain if it is necessary to grant license every month.

The motion was amended by Mr. Bailey, to continue the committee appointed last year for the purpose of attending to all business with the Court.

On motion, Dr. A. G. McCandless was re-elected President, and R. C. Miller, Esq., re-elected Secretary of the League, to serve for the ensuing year.

On motion the present Executive Committee were also re-elected to serve for the ensuing year.

There being no further business the League adjourned.

A Band of Robbers on a Raid in Fairview Township.

One evening last week, a rap was heard upon the door of Mr. Nathaniel Hazen's house, in Fairview township, Mercer county. Mr. H. who is an old man, went to the door, and was accosted by a stranger, who desired to know, the way to Brownsville. Mr. Hazen stepped out of the house to give the desired information, when the stranger presented a pistol at his head and informed him that it was his money he wanted. At the same time three other strangers made their appearance, who exhibited revolvers and dirk-knives in uncomfortable profusion and made an emphatic demand upon the old gentleman for "your money or your life!"

He assured them that he kept his money in the bank, but they swore that he had received money lately which was in the house. While one man guarded Mr. Hazen, the rest compelled his daughter to go with them while they searched the house. They ransacked the bureau drawers, pulled the beds to pieces, looked in the wood pile, raked among the corn in the bin—but found nothing in the greenback line. Disappointed and angry, they took from Mr. Hazen and his daughter their pocket books (containing about ten dollars) and left with many direful threats of another predatory visit. Mr. Hazen had recently received $800, which was hidden in the corn not more than two feet from where the thieves raked it over.

After leaving Mr. Hazen's, they made a visit to the house of Mr. James Sellers, where they re-enacted the same scene, and carried off all the money in the house.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The lovers of good dramatic entertainments will be charmed to learn that the popular actor, Mr. E. L. Davenport, makes his initial bow at the Opera House this evening, in the greatest of Shakspearian characters—"Hamlet."

We have never seen this gentleman as the morose and philosophical Dane, yet from what the Eastern critics say of him we are almost assured of being pleased with his impersonation of the part. To-morrow he appears as Othello, a role in which he has won quite a reputation.

THEATRE.—Vestvali opens at this house this evening in her great speciality of "Gamea, or The Jewish Mother," in which she is said to be without a rival. The play is replete, with touching incidents, excellent dramatic situations and is sure to draw a good audience even if put forth under less favorable circumstances.

Mr. Sidney Marlowe appeared at the theatre on Saturday afternoon in the last act of the Shakspearian tragedy of Richard III. Mr. Marlowe's conception of the part was carried out and his performance of it was really meritorious. He gave decided evidence of histronic ability, and may yet gain a name in the profession he has chosen.

MASONIC HALL.—The inimitable Samuel S. Sanford, with his famous Minstrel Troupe, will inaugurate a brief season of Cork Opera at Masonic Hall to-night. To those who have seen this band any commendation of ours would be simply superfluous, but to such as have not we would say that no other band in the country has gained such an enviable notoriety for versatility, originality and genuine humor. Sam. Sanford is a host in himself and we expect during his stay in this city to see this spacious temple of amusement filled to repletion. On Saturday afternoon they will give a grand family matinee for the accommodation of ladies and children.

Jugged Again.

On Saturday, Mayor Morrison committed to jail Samuel Williams, to answer a charge of stealing a watch-guard, preferred by George Gerber. Gerber is proprietor of a tavern on Ohio street, Allegheny, and alleges that while in the bar-room, on Friday afternoon, Williams and a companion came in. William's grabbed at Gerber's watch, but in pulling it out of his pocket the guard broke and fell to the floor. Williams picked it up and refused to return it. An information was accordingly made against him and upon a hearing Saturday morning, was committed in default of three hundred dollars bail. William is unfortunate. Some three weeks ago he was arrested for stealing a watch, and was committed to jail for trial because he could not secure bail. He remained in jail until noon. when the required security was given. After being out a few hours, he was jugged again as stated.

Death of an Estimable Lady.—We are pained to announce the death of Mrs. Mary Kearns, mother of E. P. Kearns, Esq., which took place, rather suddenly, from congestion of the brain, at her late residence, Webster street, on Saturday afternoon. The deceased was an estimable Christian lady, beloved and respected by all who enjoyed the pleasure of her acquaintance. The funeral services will take place this morning at nine o'clock at St. Paul's Cathedral.

A Suggestion.—We would suggest that the ringing of the fire alarm bell be made the signal for notifying the people of the commencement of the meteoric display, which is expected one of these nights. Let a general ringing of the bells announce to the community at large, the appearance of the meteors, so that none may miss the wonderful display promised.

FALLING STARS.

The Fiery Rainstorm—Coming of the Meteors.

Whether, in its ceaseless march through infinite space, the grand system of meteors intersects the track of the earth, or the earth, in swinging with the mighty brotherhood of planets around the vast celestial circle, comes once in a generation, into the region of flying stars, has never been quite satisfactorily ascertained. But it has been pretty well decided that once in thirty-three years the earth is in a position to be reminded of its own ultimate doom by seeing the stars fall from their different spheres.

Nothing could more grandly illustrate the perpetual miracle of creation and existence than the marvellous accuracy with which the coming of the grand display can be predicted from reference to its previous comings. So true is the working of the celestial machine that the coming together of the meteoric and the planetary systems scarcely varies an hour. If we know when they were together last we can tell when they will be together again almost as definitely as we can tell at what hour the sun will rise to-morrow morning by referring to the moment it rose this morning. The immensity of the journey occupying thirty-three years, each year sweeping forward through so many millions of miles, the little delays occasioned by our planet going now and then a few thousand miles out of her way to pay her respects to some mightier celestial, whose jurisdiction she enters—these make no difference to steady old mother earth, and she is always on time.

Knowing this, and knowing that to-day is the 12th of November, of course all our readers will be keenly watching to-night for the flashing of the fiery milestone that will mark the completion of another thirty-three years of millions of miles on our onward journey. So persistently has this date and the wonderful phenomenon it was to bring, been kept before the public, that we suppose all our readers are prepared for it, and there is no danger that any of them will put on the ascension robes in anticipation of the Final Day, or go down into a well, or call out the fire department, or refuse to accept the payment of old debts in the belief that money will not be the circulating medium many hours longer. They will philosophically sit up and wait for the show, and if it does not come to-night they will sit up again to-morrow night.

—Apropos of the coming shower, some erudite contributor to the New York World has piled up the following facts and figures in relation thereto:

The term meteor signifies any phenomenon of short duration occurring in the atmosphere. They are, of course, thus various, such as meteors of rain, snow, fog, and hail, termed aqueous, while the effects produced by the passage of these aqueous particles through the air are called luminous meteors. The phenomena of lightning, aerolites, shooting stars, &c., are technically termed igneous meteors. But in best understood language the term meteor is applied only to those bodies that as globular fire or shooting-stars are now and then seen hurling in space at unknown distances from the earth and in unknown orbits. The fact of their solidity appears from their occasionally throwing upon our earth's surface fragments of stone, or "meteor" iron, whose heat is intense, and whose ascertained substance is composed of the following elements:

ANALYSIS OF THE ÆROLITE.

Iron	57.22	Phosphorus	13.92
Cobalt	0.32	Alumina	1.63
Silica	0.63	Copper	unascertained
Chlorine	0.13	Zinc	unascertained
Nickel	25.82

The earliest records of a historic account of the occurrence of grand meteoric showers extend as far back as the Chinese annals of 644 B. C., which nation preserved the only authentic notings on the subject from that date till 333 A. D. In all, during this period, 977 years, sixteen special grand descents of falling stars are recorded by the Chinese. The Greeks, quite strangely, preserved but meagre records of the phenomenon. Their theory was to the effect that the ærolites were masses of earthstone forced off the general surface by the rapidity of rotation.

Some of the most remarkable displays of meteoric phenomena have been accomplished without the passage of ærolite stones. The body of the meteor, called the bolis, is a fiery body precipitated across the heavens, and often explodes with loud noise, leaving no trace of solid materials in their van or wake. A luminous train follows them, and frequently leaves a brilliance in the rear that lasts several minutes. They send forth vivid scintillations, and present various bright colors, so that the same meteoric shower is often differently described from different places. Their average height above the earth has been ascertained to be 20-23 of a degree, or about sixty miles. The new accepted theory of a meteor is that they emanate from a nebulous body that revolves around the sun, in an elliptical orbit, the aphelion of which meets the orbit of the earth at the stated period of their regular occurrence. Their nebulosity is inferred from the fact that none of the meteors, coming, though they do, with the prodigious velocity of 250 miles in a minute, ever reach our planet in a solid state, but are dissipated in the atmosphere.

This nebular theory is that of Professor Olmstead, of Yale, and of Arago. The latter suggests that the meteoric bodies constitute a stream in the form of an annular zone, within which they pursue a common orbit; that there are several such streams which intersect, each at its own period, the earth's common orbit; and that through each the myriad of small cosmical bodies are irregularly distributed, and that in our earth's passage through the densest of these groups the most brilliant displays occur.

Ruffianism Rampant—A House Broken Open by Rowdies.

On Saturday night a little before midnight, a party of five or six men visited the residence of Mrs. Mackeral, a widow lady living on Crawford street, in the Sixth ward, and after rapping several times at the front door demanded an immediate admittance from Mrs. Mackeral, who, hoisting an upper window, asked her untimely visitors what they wanted. One of the party replied that they wished to get inside before they made known the purport of their business. To this the lady dissented, telling them to go away or she would call the police. Instead of complying with her request, a couple of the rowdies proceeded to the rear of the house where they forced the back door open, and coming through the house opened the front door, thus allowing the remainder of the roughs to enter the house. As soon as Mrs. Mackeral found that the ruffians had effected an entrance she cried loudly for assistance, and in a few minutes the police were at the door, but the roughs made their escape through the rear door and after running through a deserted grave yard, closely followed by the police, succeeded in making their escape. We trust the rowdies who would thus assail and force open the house of an old lady with no relative protector near, will be brought to speedy justice.

The Fire Alarm Telegraph.

At noon to-day the fire alarm telegraph passes from the hands of the contractors to the city authorities, and will be put into actual operation. After that hour there will be no more experimenting with the signals and the bell, and the department is notified by Chief Engineer Hare, that any alarm sounded after that time will be bona fide, and the companies are to proceed at once to the neighborhood indicated. The test made on Friday night of the workings of the system was thoroughly satisfactory, and gave the best promise of the success of the line. Mr. Samuel T. Paisley, late of the Western Union Telegraph Company, has been appointed Superintendent. His assistants have not yet been selected.

The Alleghenians are agitating the subject of having a line constructed for their city, to act in connection with ours, being operated from our central office.

New Freight Depot of Erie and Pittsburgh Railroad.

A large freight house is being erected at the railroad depot in West New Castle, the increase of the business of the road having made it absolutely necessary. At each end of the building an extra story has been added, to be used for offices for the clerks and those connected with the roads. The building at the north end of the depot is intended for the transaction of the business of the Erie and Pittsburgh road, and that at the south end for the New Castle and Beaver Valley road. The transportation business at that point is heavy, far exceeding the expectations of those who projected the improvements. Extensive arrangements are now in progress for developing the mineral regions thereabouts, which will throw an enormous amount of coal on the road, to be transported next season. The coal now shipped over the road, we presume, exceeds in tonnage all the other freight.

Upwards of 250,000 families are now using the Wheeler & Wilson machines, and they have never failed yet to give satisfaction. Sumner & Co., the western agents, at 29 Fifth street, have a fine stock on hand, from which you can make your selection. Every machine they sell is warranted.

Interesting Case—A Father Trying to Get Possession of His Son.

On Saturday morning, before a full bench in the Court of Quarter Sessions was heard, partially the argument on a writ of habeas corpus, issued upon petition of Frederick Dachroth, to obtain the custody of his son, Thomas Dachroth, aged nine years, now held by the Directors of the Poor. The parents reside at Latronia, in Harrison township, and it appears that a charge was made against them by a Mr. Nelson, a neighbor, alleging that they had cruelly beaten and abused the boy Thomas. On the strength of this information the child was taken from them and placed in the custody of the Overseers of the Poor, where he still remains.

On the 1st inst., the parents, through their counsel, H. P. Mueller, Esq., made application before Judge Sterritt for a writ ordering R. H. Davis, J. F. Dravo and Moses Chess, Directors of the Poor, to produce the body of the child in court. The application was granted, and the writ made returnable this morning. At the time fixed Messrs. Davis and Dravo made their appearance with the child. On the part of the petitioners, Rev. Frederick Shields, pastor of the Evangelical Luther Church, was called. He testified that he had known the parents for a number of years, they having been members of his congregation for five or six years. He had baptised the child on December 13, 1857. He had been a frequent visitor at their house, both prior and since their removal to Latrona, but had never heard of them maltreating their children. He thought Mr. Dachroth a diligent Christian man, and knew that he instructed them at home, and took them regularly to church.

The boy then made a statement to the court. He said his father had tied him and then laid him on the floor and beat him with a cane; that his mother struck him and nearly knocked his eye out. His father whipped him because he refused to go to school, and his mother, he said, whipped him for the same reason, when he bit her on the arm. He said his parents gave him enough to eat, and that he had been told by neighbors that petitioners were not his father and mother.

Proceedings were suspended at this point, and the case was continued until Saturday, the 24th inst. The Overseers of the Poor meantime retain the custody of the boy.

Serious Accident—A Woman Seriously Burned.

At about seven o'clock last evening, Mrs. Winnie Donahue, an aged Irishwoman of about seventy, residing with her son on Point alley, met with a serious and well nigh fatal accident. She was alone with her little grand-child, about two years of age, in a room of the second story. Feeling chilly she walked to the grate, in which a bright fire was burning, and stood with her back to the fire. In a few moments the bottom of her dress, by some means came in contact with the fire and in an instant her entire person was in flames. Her arms were stiff, with rheumatism, so that she could make no effort to extinguish the fire. She had sufficient presence of mind, however, to sit down upon the floor, instead of running distractedly about, and so adding to the flames. Her cries, and those of the frightened child, soon brought assistance, and quantities of water were thrown upon her. It was not, however, until some one with commendable thoughtfulness, threw a large blanket closely around the burning woman that the fire was effectually quenched. She was then placed upon a bed and her injuries examined. Her entire dress was burned off her, but her principal injuries were on her back. All the way from her hips to her neck, the back is very badly burned. Otherwise her hurts are slight, Dr. McMahon was called in and said that her injuries though serious are not necessarily dangerous.

Mrs. Donahue has been using volatile liniment for the rheumatism in her arms, and it is thought that some of it must have been spilled upon the skirt of her dress, causing it to burn more readily than it otherwise would have done.

The burning of the unfortunate woman's dress made so great a light as to cause an alarm of fire and the engines turned out with their usual promptitude. Fortunately, however, the misfortune of a conflagration was not added to what was already bad enough.

Brought to Grief—A Philadelphia Clerk in the Pittsburgh Lock-Up.

A dispatch was received on Saturday morning by Chief of Police Hague from Chief Buckley, of the Philadelphia detective police, requesting Chief Hague to arrest, on the arrival of the eastern train in this city, one Henry Lewis, who had suddenly left that city for the west, after having stolen $525.00 from his employer. On the arrival of the Baltimore train, at 1:16 P. M., officer Hague took into custody a young man on the train answering to the description telegraphed by the Philadelphia officer. At first the youth denied his identity, but on being taken to the lock-up and searched, and $339 in money found in his possession, he admitted his name to be Lewis. On his person was found the hand book of W. B. Sellers & Co., in whose employ Lewis was, and from whom he stole the the money. Sellers & Co., are well-known shoe dealers.

Accompanying Lewis was a very prepossessing young lady, who claimed to be his wife, which relationship the prisoner also claims for her. She was in great distress of mind at the arrest of her husband and visited him repeatedly. Lewis is about nineteen years of age, of considerable intelligence, and who might be called sharp and well posted. He is a brother-in-law to Mr. Sellers, and seems to have been his confidential clerk, handling most of the money of the firm. It seems that while he had in his possession the sum mentioned above he decamped, but had his enterprise nipped in the bud by his untimely arrest. He was remarkably reticent and would give no account of himself whatever. Yesterday officer Benjamin Levy, of the Philadelphia police, arrived to take charge of Lewis, and this morning started for Philadelphia with him on the three o'clock train. The wife of the prisoner, who stopped at one of our principal hotels during her stay in the city, accompanied her husband back home.

Goods Thrown Away.

We do not mean by the above caption that goods are really thrown away, but that at the mammoth auction house salesrooms of T. A. McClelland, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street, dress goods, boots and shoes, are sold at prices which figuratively speaking, may well be said that they are given away. Never since this popular bazaar has been opened has there been such an enormous stock stowed away in the capacious storerooms, and never has greater bargains been offered. The prices are lower than those commanded for the same quality of goods five or six years ago. This is a broad assertion, but it must be remembered that the bulk of the new goods recently laid in, was purchased at Eastern auctions, at the recent fluctuations which threatened panic, and at heavy sales made in New York, under the hammer of the Sheriff. The stock embraces all description of boots, shoes, gaiters, slippers &c., and every article of ladies, mens and childrens pedal coverings.

In addition to this, the stock contains a full line of all kinds of dry goods in general use, such as dress materials, shawls, balmoral and crinoline skirts, flannels carpets, [illegible] try, eastern and colored blankets, [illegible] clothing, overcoats, pants, vests, [illegible] suits, &c., &c., cloths, cassimeres, [illegible] beavers, doeskins, &c., &c., in short every article of goods to be found in one [illegible] establishment. Generally [illegible] you [illegible] bargains, and to satisfy yourself [illegible] prices again prevail just step in and enquire the prices of goods with [illegible] you are familiar; you will be surprised [illegible] wonder how such great bargains can be offered. A New Invention for Developing Oil Wells.

The Titusville Herald says: "A gentleman of this city has secured a patent for a new invention for developing oil wells, which is the result of long experimenting on his part. The contrivance is of a very simple character, and works on the principle of hydraulics. At the lower extremity of the rod, which descends into the well, is a wooden rammer of a diameter to fit the well. A weight of some six hundred pounds is made to descend upon the upper end of the rod, producing a violent concussion upon the water below, and cleaning the crevices of paraffine or sediment of any nature. This invention is about to be practically tested, and the inventor, who has been an oil operator for years, has the fullest confidence that his contrivance will accomplish all that a torpedo can in opening oil veins in the rock below."

Charged with Theft.

Our readers will remember that on the 6th of October last a gang of rowdies got upon a train on the Connellsville Railroad, and conducted themselves in a riotous manner. Conductor Drake the next day preferred a charge before the Mayor against five persons unknown, for riot. One John Brady was arrested as one of the rioters, and held to bail for a hearing on Saturday, in the hope that in the meantime the other rioters might be arrested. On Saturday Brady had a hearing before the Mayor, when it was satisfactorily determined that only two persons participated in the disturbance. As under the laws of this State, it requires at least three persons to create a riot, Brady was discharged.

Supreme Court.

On Saturday morning the Court opened at half-past nine, a full bench being present with the exception of Chief Justice Woodard.

Stevens et ux. vs. Huss et al; Greene county. Continued for argument at Philadelphia on January 9th.

Court adjourned, without transacting further business, until this morning at ten o'clock.

Painful Catastrophe—A Fireman Badly Injured.

Last night, at the alarm of fire occasioned by the burning of Mrs. Donohue's clothing, reported else where, the engines all turned out. The hose carriage of the Duquesne Company, in turning the corner of Fifth and Liberty streets, came in violent contact with a stick of timber lying there. Mr. Samuel Shirley, a well known and efficient member of the Duquesne Company, was driving at the time, and by the violence of the shock was thrown from his seat and fell forward across the timber. As he fell, his right leg rested on the stick, the foot projecting in front of the wheel of the hose carriage. The wheel struck the limb a little above the ankle, and passed over it, breaking the bone across the angle of the stick and tearing the foot almost entirely off the limb. When he was taken up, the bones of his leg were protruding a considerable distance from the flesh. The wagon of the Vigilant Company was close at hand, and into it the injured man was lifted and conveyed at once to Passavant's Infirmary. The limb was so badly injured that it was impossible to save it, and amputation was necessary. We hear that Mr. Shirley is at present as well as could be expected, but is suffering greatly from his injury. He has the sincere sympathies of his comrades and of all who know him.

Freedmen's Aid Society.

The annual meeting of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Ladies' Society, for the relief of the Freedmen, is to be held in Allegheny at Dr. Clark's church, corner of Stockton avenue and Sandusky streets, this afternoon at half past two o'clock. The annual report will be presented, and addresses will be delivered by gentlemen selected for the occasion, who will not fail to interest the audience, and all who appreciate the work of the society are earnestly invited to be present.

DIED.

KEARNS—On Saturday, November 10th, 1866, at 1 o'clock P. M., Mrs. MARY, consort of the late Edward Kearns, in the 60th year of her age.

Her funeral will take place from her late residence, No. 26 Webster street, THIS MORNING at 9 o'clock, to proceed to St. Mary's Cemetery. Her friends, and those of the family, are respectfully invited to attend without further notice.

A REVIEW.

The New York Times, some months ago with almost paternal solicitude, called our attention to what it regarded as an imminent danger impending over the country, and to which it thought we were unconsciously contributing. It said there was a strong probability the President would be able so far to weaken the republican strength in some of the northern and western States as to enable the democrats to carry them; that enough States might be carried in this way to constitute majorities of the two Houses; that, in this event, the President would recognize these bodies as the only legitimate Congress; and thus compel the republicans to pass under the yoke. To avoid this catastrophe we were admonished it was essential to tread softly and to eat unbounded quantities of dirt. Owing to some peculiarities of constitution we did not see proper to accept the entertainment to which we were invited. It was so palpable to us that the American people were masters of their own government, and were not at all likely to sink into the condition of serfs, that the trepidation of our contemporary provoked mirth in us instead of exciting serious apprehensions.

The elections are now pretty much over, and a deliberate survey of the field is readily attainable. In our contumacy towards the occupant of the White House it really seems we were in a goodly fellowship of honorable men—enough of them to take the high matters in dispute entirely out of the category of uncertainty. The only chance the President had of obtaining instruments for the accomplishment of his flagrant designs against the representatives of the loyal States and People, lay in the conduct of such men as Mr. H. J. RAYMOND and such journals as the one he controls. They, and they only, by their hesitancy, and trimming, and half-heartedness, lifted the scheme of the President out of the depths of contempt. If they had stood firm; if they had not promised compliance with his views and assistance in his measures; if they had not excited distrust and doubt among timid and faint-hearted republicans; if they had not encouraged the venal, who attach themselves to the party of the majority as bummers to a victorious army on its march; and if they had not exhibited a disposition to lead the way in the great betrayal; there would have been no uncertainty as to the general result of the elections this fall even as early as last Spring.

But, whatever intentions these men and journals had of becoming accomplices of the President, and sharers of the resultant plunder, their pleasant expectations were cut off. If they were seduced, the people were not. If they were frightened, the people maintained an admirable self-possession.

The Times, in common with most of the journals of its class, after groping about for months as do the blind who see men as trees walking, concluded that its combinations for a new and triumphant party, on the plan of installing the beaten Rebellion in the Palaces of the Government, was a signal failure, and tried to find its way back into the republican ranks. Its success in this endeavor was not brilliant. Indeed, it did not display either as much address or as much impudence in extricating itself from the uncomfortable dilemma in which it was involved, as did some of its fellows who were vastly inferior to it in ability and experience. Having no character to maintain, they threw away all pretensions to consistency and decency, as soldiers on a disorderly retreat do arms and accoutrements, and, frigid Conservatives one week, became flaming Radicals the next; from cringing adulators of the President and Mr. COWAN, they were speedily transformed into the most bitter and relentless assailants of both. On this point the Times might well descend to take lessons of its satellites. We have fallen upon an era, long foretold, when pupils grow wiser than their teachers are.

THE FATE OF THE PONTIFF.

The POPE, for many ages a central figure in European politics, is still conspicuous as ever, notwithstanding his approaching temporal humiliation. The withdrawal of the French troops, occupying Rome, is fixed for about the 15th of December. Hardly a doubt remains but this evacuation will be speedily followed by the occupation of the Papal territories by the Italian army. The impression is general that the POPE will await events at the Vatican. Meanwhile, NAPOLEON is said to be brooding over a scheme for uniting the Christians of Turkey and Greece with the Romish communion, and for offering the POPE Jerusalem in exchange for Rome, thus making Mount Zion the center of the new dispensation as it was of the old. This is a scheme which a politician might well indulge as a possible solution to a troublesome question; but whether the Sovereign Pontiff and the College of Cardinals could be induced to fall into the measure, admits of considerable doubt. If the consent of these great dignitaries should be obtained, then it would become a serious question what effect the trans-plantation would have upon the Church. Young trees are readily taken out of the earth in which they germinated, and carried far away, and planted, under other skies, in a different soil. Soon they forget the violence used upon them, and send forth fresh leaves, and shoots, and flourish, it may be, in a brighter green. But, with old trees the work of trans-plantation is a much more serious matter. The issue is always involved in doubt: the failures outnumbering the successes. Large roots have to be cut asunder; the lesser ones get bruised, or crushed off; and the branches have to be sawed away. If verdure appears at all, it is sickly, withers in the hot sun, and the life of the tree goes out.

For many centuries the Church has been planted in Rome. Like the banyan tree, its roots have run under the seas, and come up in far away continents and isles of the oceans, flowering with its doctrines and ritual. It seems most improbable that it can be taken up, removed thence, and be safely planted on the hill-tops of Judea. All its traditions, all its memories, run back to Rome. These are the witnesses of its power; from thence it has ruled the world. To remove it is to consign it, if not to immediate death, at least to swift decay.

It may, indeed, be said, that Judea is the nest from whence all the grand religious ideas that master the nations have come forth. And this is true. All those high places are haunted still by holy legends, and the barren earth and the whispering air seem instinct with weird spirits of the past. But it is a desolate land. A blight has passed over it, as if the malediction of the Creator rested there. Man and his works are in decay. Even inanimate nature is sorrowful. If the Church desires for a season to put on sack-cloth, and sit in ashes, and take up lamentations, no more suitable place can be found; but if it still means to share in all the on-goings of the world, it will stay at Rome on the best terms it can make with the new power that is rising in order and beauty out of the sepulchre of the past.

NEGRO SUFFRAGE IN TENNESSEE.

Gov. Brownlow, in his message to the Legislature, delivered on the 6th inst., makes these observations:

> At your extra sessions in July last, in the face of the direct opposition of the Federal administration and in defiance of its power and patronage, you ratified the pending amendment to the Federal Constitution. The loyal people have approved the wisdom and applauded the fearlessness of your course; and the Congress of the United States signified their approbation by at once admitting to their seats your chosen representatives, thus restoring to our State all the rights and relations that had been lost or disturbed by the rebellion of our people. True, you have been abused and denounced by the President and his present followers, while those who endeavored by revolutionary acts to destroy your organization have been honored and rewarded; yet you have enjoyed the approbation of your own conscience and received the plaudits of the patriotic of the nation, and may well go on in the even tenor of your way, guided alone by a sense of your duty.
> Having in this distinguished manner affixed the seal of your approbation to this amendment, it is proper that you should mould your legislation to its spirit and meaning.
> While it is true that this amendment leaves with the States, as heretofore, the regulation of the elective franchise, it is equally true that it encourages the enfranchisement of all loyal male citizens of whatever color. Our own State, for instance, under the operations of the amendment, without the enfranchisement of the colored citizens, will have but six representatives, while, with impartial loyal suffrage, it is estimated that she would have nine, thus increasing her power in the councils of the nation fifty per cent.
> In my message addressed to you in October, 1865, the subject of colored suffrage is discussed in all of its bearings. Upon a careful review of that paper, I still approve the sentiments therein expressed and respectfully refer you to them.
> An eventful year, however, has passed since it was written; and while unforeseen events have happened, contingencies therein contemplated have also occurred.
> The colored race have shown a greater aptitude for learning and intelligence than was expected, and by their good conduct and steadfast loyalty have rapidly won upon the good opinion and respect of the white race; while the late rebels, under the encouragement of the President, have shown less disposition to return to true loyalty than was hoped for.
> These manifestations have occasioned a rapid advancement of the national sentiment in favor of impartial suffrage.
> In the message to which I have alluded, while candidly admitting that "negro voting cannot suit my natural prejudices of caste," it is yet stated that "there is a class of them I would be willing to see vote at once." The opinion is also expressed "that negro suffrage is bound to follow as one of the great results of the rebellion; and that the time would come when it would be proper and right," but that "the time had not then come, the great objection being to the immediate and indiscriminate enfranchisement of the negroes;" but it is directly insisted in the message to which I refer, that "if rebels are to be restored to the rights of the elective franchise, let us no longer deny those political rights to the late slaves who have been faithful among the faithless." I still adhere to the opinion that "all this great outcry against a negro voting in any contingency, comes from a lingering sentiment of disloyalty in the South."
> In all the States lately in rebellion, except Tennessee, the rebels have been fully "restored to the rights of the elective franchise;" and even in this State, under a somewhat stringent suffrage law, a large number of disloyal persons are unavoidably allowed to vote.
> Whether the time has come when it is "proper and right" to confer the ballot on the colored man, or whether that time is approaching at which that sacred right shall accrue to him, are questions demanding your earnest consideration and final decision.
> The admirers and followers of the President cannot, with any show of consistency, oppose the enfranchisement of the negro.
> In an authorized and approved statement of his opinions, made public by his direction, long since his accession to the Presidency, he declares that if he were "in Tennessee he would endeavor to introduce negro suffrage." He declares that he would begin with three classes of negroes to be admitted to vote at once: "Those who had served in the army; those who could read and write and those having a property qualification of $200 or $250." Thus, by a system not very gradual, he desired to extend the privilege to the entire race.
> If what is termed the Radical party in the Legislature shall agree with the President and followers on the question of negro suffrage, it would seem that an excellent opportunity for agreement and conciliation on a vexed question will be presented, and that the negro may be enfranchised with unanimity.
> As for myself, while I have confessed to those prejudices of caste, resulting from education and life-long habits, I am free to say that I desire to act in harmony with the great body of the loyal people of the Union.
> I think we should not, without great and controlling reasons, sever ourselves from that great national party whose wisdom and courage saved the life of the nation, and rescued the loyal people of Tennessee from the hands of the oppressor.

GENERAL NEWS.

—Thanksgiving in Ohio is appointed for Thursday, November 29.

—The recent excessive rains in the south of England have caused the growth of fungi to an enormous extent.

—The work of restoring the cathedral church of Notre Dame, Paris, is almost finished. It has occupied 20 years.

—Thirty persons are in the state prison of Nevada, and as a proof of their intelligence it is stated that every one of them can play draw poker.

—The men in Bavaria are great smokers. The, lay a lighted cigar beside their plates at the breakfast table and take a puff between mouthfuls.

—It is said that General Lamora, now in Florence, is engaged in drawing up a detailed and critical account of the military operations of the late campaign in Italy.

—It is demonstrated that the use of soft instead of hard water in London will save its people $3,375,000 yearly on the three articles of soap, tea and coffee.

—An Australian colonist has harnessed up a Kangaroo and put him to labor—turning machinery with half horse power. If he gets lazy, a pin stuck in him makes him jump up.

—In the little mining camp of Birchville, Bridgeport township, California, where the entire taxable real property does not amount to $100,000, the incomes last year amounted to $146,195.

—A boxed-up turtle recently lived seven months in a Charleston saloon, without food or water, but at the end of that time disposed of a large quanity of bread as if he had a good appetite.

—The wealthy parents of two New York young men who were tired of doing nothing, recently started them in the brokers business with a capital of $20,000. In two weeks they had lost the capital and a few hundred over.

—A man a short distance out from the city says no one need tell him that advertising won't cause a big rush, for he advertised ten bushels of grapes for sale and the next morning there wasn't one left—the boys stole 'em all.

—It appears from recent experiments conducted by the London Pneumatic Company, that one hundred and twenty tons of goods can be sent through their eighteen miles of tubes every hour, at a cost less than 1d a ton per mile.

—An apprentice sailor-boy fell from the "round top" to the deck, stunned, but little hurt, the Captain exclaimed in surprise: "Why, where did you come from?" "From the north of Ireland, yer honor!" was the abrupt reply as the little fellow gathered himself up.

—Mr. J. C. Derby, general agent for the Paris exhibition, announces that no further applications from American exhibitors can be received; as the space allotted to the United States is filled. Notice of the time of shipment for accepted articles will be given by Mr. Derby.

—General Lee accepts the notes of all students who are unable to pay the fees at Washington College, believing that young men who receive their education under such circumstances will pay when able. Perhaps this is one reason why the number of applications has reached eight hundred.

—A Wall street "bull" tried to whip two "bears" at New York, the other day, and got pitched into the gutter for his pains. On getting up he found that he had lost a diamond pin in the scuffle, and a small telegraph messenger had the pleasure of carrying off the $500 reward that he offered for it.

—The students of a New York college recently perpetrated a funny joke upon one of the college magnates, who is as absent minded as he is learned. Being in the habit of reading a chapter of the Bible in course to them every day, the students by changing the mark kept him reading the 18th chapter of Acts for a whole week!

—No less than seventy songs of victory, hymns and cantatas, were composed for the entry of the Prussian troops into Berlin. Had they been played one after the other, says a musical authority, they would have lasted eleven hours and forty-five minutes, but doubtless they were all played together, which, if it did not heighten the effect, hid the defects.

—A negro of the Ottawa House, Montreal, absconded the other day, taking with him from ten to fourteen thousand dollars in borrowed money, seven hundred dollars in jewelry and eight hundred dollars in clothing. He was traced into Vermont by one of his creditors, but the sharp thief's wire had taken another track with all the plunder in her possession.

—The citizens of Maysville, Kentucky, are to hold a meeting on the 12th instant, the object of which is to secure the forfeiture of the charter of the Maysville and Lexington Railroad, held, at present, by parties unfriendly to the completion of the road, and to organize a new company, by which railroad connections with the interior of the State may be established.

DESTITUTION IN THE SOUTH.—There is a belt of country extending from North Carolina to Texas, including the northern and central points of the intervening States of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana, which, in consequence of the failure of the crops, is threatened with the most direful calamity that can befall a people—a state of destitution denoting the approach and it may be the actual presence of famine before the maturity of the crops of 1867.

THE POLISH INSURRECTION.—The Sibriski Vyestnick, an Irkutsk paper, contains an explicit report upon the late rebellion of the polish political prisoners and its tragical issue. If this paper can be trusted, seven hundred and seventeen out of the seven hundred and twenty-one who were captives in the neighborhood of Lake Baikal and joined in the insurrection have been either killed or fallen again into the hands of the authorities. The slain amount to thirty-four. In another official report it is stated that thirty-eight exiles have succeeded in making their escape from Nertchinsk. Their only road to freedom lies through Japan to Tartary.

Life in New Orleans.

With the approach of Winter season, the gambling houses open in full blast, and they are almost numberless, ranging in elegance of appointments and monetary strength from institutions which furnish royal suppers, and command thousands of dollars, down to little seven-by-nine shanties, where the lunch consists of crackers and cheese, and the "chips" cost a picayune a piece. Formerly they were licensed under laws of the State, and were open to everybody, but now they are under the ban, and are somewhat exclusive. People have learned to look upon frequenters of these places with distrust, whereas in old times everybody, except the preachers and deacons, played without regard to public opinion. The law obliged the proprietors to keep their places on the first floor, in order to secure ease of entrance, and every one betting against the bank had a legal right to demand the dealer to change his pack of cards even in the middle of a deal. Although the practice does not obtain so universally now, since the changes of the law, thousands are lost and won nightly on St. Charles street and other localities, where large brazen figures over a door, and a screen at the top of the stairs, give sure indication that a "game is being dealt." Strange to say that, notwithstanding the influence of French mannersin other matters, faro is the favorite game and Creoles the most numerous players. The gamblers wield an important influence in the control of muncipal affairs.

As a natural accompaniment of such a fast place, gilded bagnios filled with fast women abound plentifully. Some of the finest residences have been appropriated for such purposes, and although strenuous efforts are often made to rid the community of them, they always fail here, as they do everywhere else. New York, Boston and Washington are probably the only cities in the country which excel New Orleans in the extent of its patronage in the demi-monde. The Evening Star carried with her to a watery grave some of the most noted mistresses of houses of prostitution in the city, and the adjustment of their respective "successions"—property left behind—has furnished whispering gossip for the whole city, as it has disclosed the fact that male partners existed, who had pecuniary interests in the houses. Of course people don't talk of such things out loud; but they get whispered about with great celerity. There is a certain boldness about the appearance and location of these dens of infamy here, which is, perhaps, only equaled by your own city. For instance, on Boston street three costly marble carriage steps are laid on the curbstone, on which are cut in letters the names of King, Hamilton and Palmer, mistresses of the house, and which are in plain sight from Canal street. King was lost on the vessel referred to above, and the roughs call her marble sign a tomb-stone.

The balls of the quadroons, almost always fancy dress, are another prominent point of fast life here. Of course they are attended by all the fast young men about town, and rumor has it that gray heads and beards are sometimes seen mixed up in whirling quadrilles, polkas and waltzes, with the long black tresses of the semi-white females. They are conducted with all the rigid conventionalities that pervade similar entertainments indulged in by the upper-crust, and no description of them is necessary.

A JUBILANT REPUBLICAN, in a private note to us, says:

"The Lord has spoken through His people. His voice has been heard from Maine to Minnesota. Was not the thunder of Massachusetts terrible to evil-doers? I think it must have caused the dry bones in the White House to shake. If the good God does not see fit to take me to Heaven when I die, I trust he will send me to Massachusetts. If Andrew Johnson should now see fit to kill himself, I should go up in a flame of glory, like the prophet."

SPREAD THE TRUTH.—Some medical men insist that it is undignified to advertise a remedy, however valuable it may be. Queer reasoning this. It is like saying that an article which the world needs should be hid in a corner—that the benefits and blessings may be too widely diffused—that the means of protecting and restoring health should be a close monopoly, and not accessible to all. The argument is bad. It is worse than that: it is INHUMAN. Suppose HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—an absolute specific for dyspepsia, biliousness and nervous debility—had never been known beyond the repertoire of the faculty, what would have been the consequence? instead of curing and invigorating millions, the good effects of the preparation would have been confined to a comparative few. Here is the highest authority for saying that light should not be hid under a bushel; that whatever is excellent should be placed as a city on a hill, where all men can take cognizance of it. It is upon this principle that the BITTERS have been advertised and continue to be advertised in every newspaper of any prominence in the western hemisphere, and that the spontaneous testimonials in its favor have been translated into all written languages. Thousands enjoy perfect health to-day who would be languishing on beds of sickness if the newspapers had not spread the truth with regard to this unequaled invigorant and corrective far and wide. Suppose profit has been reaped from this publicity. Is that any argument against it? If the public health has been protected; if lives have been saved; if the feeble have been strengthened and the sick restored, great good has been accomplished; and who so mean as to grudge to exertions thus directed their fair reward?

C. C. SEELY'S
CHOLERA PREVENTIVE.

FOR REGULATING THE BOWELS, destroying Acidity in the Stomach, creating a healthy action of the Liver, assisting in the secretion of Healthy Bile, giving Regularity to the Bowels, and assisting the System to a Healthy state, the PREVENTIVE is unsurpassed. It has been tried in thousands of instances, and has never been known to fail where the directions were strictly followed.

At this time, when we know not at what moment the fell destroyer may be upon us, nothing should be left undone that can be done to give the system a healthy action, and with a view to bring about this grand desideratum, [illegible] strongest bulwark against the attacks of cholera, this medicine is offered to an intelligent public. Its action in cases of Diarrhea is magical. One bottle of the Preventive serves to check the complaint—two seldom required.

Seely's Cholera Preventive

Is the result of many years study and labor. The object of the proprietor in the first place was to produce a medicine that would assist digestion and relieve him from the terrible sufferings of Dyspepsia. Having attained his great end, he found that the mixture was an admirable regulator, and that in cases of Diarrhea its action was wonderful. Incipient chronic cases were cured by a single bottle, and even [illegible] were compelled to concede the powerful efficacy of this medicine.

Having by actual experiment in his own case, and those of his family, satisfied himself of its curative powers, he offers it to the public [illegible]

Unlike the numberless quack nostrums that are foisted upon a too credulous public, it is not a universal cure-all, but is intended for a remedy in Diarrhea, Dyspepsia, and kindred ills, [illegible]

In full confidence of its restorative powers, it is now offered to the public.

No household should be without a supply of it. Steamboats, Hotels and Travellers should always have it on hand.

It is easy to take, simple in its nature, and instantaneous in its effects.

Sold by all respectable druggists and country storekeepers. au27:128M

New Books.

SUNNYBANK. By Marion Harland. New York: Sheldon & Co. Pittsburgh: sold by Henry Miner.

The numerous readers and admirers of Marion Harland's Works will be gratified to receive a new work by this gifted author. It is entitled "Sunnybank," and is the first continuous story from her pen since "Miriam," which was published in the fall of 1862. Her later volumes have been composed of briefer tales and sketches. This new book will be found worthy to rank with any of her former books, so esteemed for their delineation of character and high moral tone.

The first book published by Marion Harland, and which at once admitted her to a place among the most able and successful novelists of our country, was "Alone." Within a few months of its publication it reached a sale almost unprecedented by any American book. It will be sufficient to state that the new volume, "Sunnybank," reintroduces us to many of the pleasant acquaintances with whom we grew familiar in "Alone." It admits us to a gallery of these life pictures vivid with interest and truthful to nature.

EVANGELINE, a Tale of Acadie. By Henry W. Longfellow. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. Pittsburgh: Henry Miner.

Elegant as is the poetry, it is matched by the beautiful illustration furnished by F. O. C. Darley.

MAUD MULLER. By John G. Whittier, with illustrations by W. J. Hennessy. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. Pittsburgh: Henry Miner.

Seldom has an exquisite poem been presented on paper so white, letter press so unimpeachable, and illustrations so superb.

An Important Suit.

The Pithole Record says. William Brough, receiver of the assets of Culver, Penn & Co., and of the members of the firm severally, has commenced a suit for trespass against P. R. Gray, Sheriff of Venango county, and F. D. Kinnear, late President of the Venango Bank. We published at the time a notice of the sale of the leasehold and building occupied by the Bank and as a residence of Mr. Culver, together with the personal property on the premises, taken in execution as the property of C. V. Culver, at the suit of F. D. Kinnear, and sold by the Sheriff on the 15th of October last. The leasehold and building were knocked down to Mr. Kinnear for $5,802. Mr. Brough was originally assignee of Culver, Penn & Co., and the members of that firm severally, and was afterward appointed receiver by the courts of New York, instead of assignee, at the instance of creditors of the firm above mentioned. It is claimed that the title to this leasehold and building is vested in Mr. Brough, for the benefit of the creditors, and that the sale by Sheriff Gray is illegal and void. Every creditor of Culver, Penn & Co., of Mr. Culver, and the depositors of the Venango Bank are interested in the result of the suit. It is simply a question of whether the property of the exploded bank and bankers shall go into the hands of a receiver for the benefit of all the creditors, pro rata, or be sold for the benefit of one. The decision of the court will be awaited with interest.

Guarded, Unguarded and Re-guarded.

Some days ago a man and woman were arrested at Brooksville on suspicion of having in their possession a pair of horses and a buggy that were advertised as stolen, and that they were being held in custody until the owner, Mr. J. S. Hart, of Bucks county, could be present to identify his property. The prisoners were kept at the American House, under guard, and on Thursday evening the woman was suddenly taken with a severe spasm, a feint, and the guard left them to call a physician. A flag of truce flying from the window of the room that the prisoners occupied was the first evidence given that the guard had been sold, and that the man, Gracy—as they gave their name—had made good his escape by tying the sheets of the bed together and descending to the awning, and from thence down one of the posts of the awning on to Main street. Several reports are current as to the direction of his flight, but one fact is apparent, that he is still at large. The woman is now enjoying all the pleasure of a sojourn in jail, where she awaits a requisition from the Sheriff of Bucks county. Messrs. Hart and Forcey, of Bucks county, arrived on Thursday evening, and claimed the property as belonging to Mr. Hart.

Assault With Criminal Intent.

Sarah Hunsdale came to the office of Justice Lippert, on Saturday, and instituted legal proceedings against Edmond Dalmer, for assault and battery with criminal intent to outrage her person. The deponent states that she is employed as a domestic in the family of John L. Moran, in Pitt township, where Dalmer is boarding. On Friday evening Mrs. Moran and family visited this city, for the purpose of seeing the Arabian Nights Entertainment. They invited Delmer to accompany them but he declined going, saying that he had a sick headache and was unable to withstand the fatigue of the visit. Shortly after eight o'clock, and before the Morans returned Edmunds is said to have entered the nursery, where Sarah was engaged in sewing, and after a few words of badinage, he attempted to kiss her. Believing his intentions to be criminal, the girl broke away from his grasp, and, leaving the house, went to that of a neighbor's, where she remained until her employer and his family came back.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Dalmer, who, after an examination, will doubtless be discharged, as all who know him are satisfied of his entire innocence of any such intention as is charged against him.

Issue of Patents.

Among the patents issued from the Patent Office for the week ending November 6th, were the following for Pennsylvania inventions:

William Allendorf, of Philadelphia, Pa., for improved apparatus for cooling malt liquors.
William T. Altfather, of Johnstown, Pa., for improved car truck standards.
Pardon Barrett, of Jackson, Pa., for improved revolving table.
C. M. Bayne, of Uniontown, Pa., for improved broom head.
D. A. T. Black, of Ray's Hill, Pa., for improvement in sleighs.
Borthel Erbe, of Pittsburgh, Pa., for improvement in door latches.
G. B. Manley, of Cogan Station, Pa., for improvement in hammers for forging blooms.
Samuel M. Miller, of Beaver Mill, Pa., for improvement in grinding mills.
John Zuell, Jr., of Pottersville, Pa., for improvement in machine for handling hides.
James Todd and Albert G. Downer, of Fayette, Pa., for improved mode of washing sand.
W. B. Trunick, of Pittsburgh, Pa. for improved boring tools for wells.

Big Counterfeit.

We have little personal interest in five hundred dollar bills, either genuine or bogus. Our "pile" never waxes to any such magnitude. Some of our readers, however, may know how a five hundred dollar bill looks, and as a matter of interest to them we will state that a new and dangerous counterfeit of United States Legal tender notes of the denomination of five hundred dollars, made its appearance at the Treasury Department, Washington, on Monday, and was pronounced by General Spinner, United States Treasurer, to be one of the most skillfully executed ever brought to his notice. The spurious note was detected by the vignette of General Alexander Hamilton, first Secretary of the United States Treasury, which, on inspection, was found to have been split from a two dollar Treasury note and neatly painted on the counterfeit five hundred. The engraving of the other portions of the note is cleverly imitated, and can only be distinguished from the genuine by the closest inspection.

Two Charges.

Annie Butler came to the office of Alderman Lynch, on Saturday, and made oath against James McCartney for assault and battery and selling liquor without license. The prosecutrix states that the accused came to her home in Point Alley, and demanded three dollars and some cents of a debt which Annie's husband had contracted by purchasing liquor of the dunner, for which he never paid. The woman refused to liquidate the responsibility incurred by her erring husband and peremptorially ordered McCartney to quit her premises. He refused, and some angry words ensuing James shoved Annie against a table injuring her side and tearing her clothing. James was arrested and made to give bail for his appearance at Court.

Fined.

On Saturday morning, in the Criminal Court, the following named liquor dealers were brought to grief:

Henry Klinzing plead guilty to selling liquor on Sunday. He was sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars, the costs of prosecution, and to undergo an imprisonment of ten days in the county jail.

Rudolph Bechtold, of the Tenth ward, plead guilty to illegal liquor selling, and was sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars and costs.

Boyd Miller, of Elizabeth township, plead guilty to two charges of selling without license. He was sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars and the costs in each case.

A Female Assailant.—Patrick Murphy came to the office of Alderman Taylor on Saturday, and made oath against Eliza Donahue for assault and battery. The prosecutor states that on Friday evening the combative Eliza, without just cause or provocation, struck Patrick a blow in the face with her clenched fist, injuring his nasal organ to a considerable extent, leaving that prominent feature of his face in an exceedingly damaged condition. Eliza was arrested and held in $300 bail for a hearing to-day.

Assault and Battery.—Jerome Naffley appeared before Alderman Humbert, on Saturday, and made oath against Samuel McClintock for assault and battery. The parties reside in the Second Ward, where the offence complained of is said to have been perpetrated. McClintock was arrested and after a hearing was discharged, the evidence being insufficient to warrant the charge. The prosecutor was made to pay the costs.

Commissioners Appointed.—Commissioners have been appointed by Governor Curtin to examine the boom in the Susquehanna river, at Williamsport, and report whether the company owning it are entitled to the additional privileges conferred on them by a recent act of the Legislature. As the commissioners report so he will decide.

Surety of the Peace.—Mary Ann James came to the office of Alderman Taylor on Saturday, and instituted legal proceedings against Augusta Hiedler, for surety of the peace. The parties reside in the Fourth ward, Allegheny. A warrant has been issued.

Special Caution.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has become so popular that various parties have put out articles calling them Mrs. Winslow's. Please take notice that the Mrs. Winslow of the Soothing Syrup is not connected with any other article. yll:d&w

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Our Relations with England—U. S. Troops to Go to Mexico—Granting of Pardons Stopped—Rumored Recall of Gen. Kilpatrick.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—It is understood in the diplomatic circle that our relations with England are improving. The British Government has unofficially shown such a friendly spirit that it is believed the indemnity claims will be settled without an ultimatum for this side.

It is more than probable that such are now our relations with the Juarez Administration that the United States troops will soon enter Mexico.

The President has almost ceased the granting of pardons to residents of the Southern States who were engaged in the rebellion, and it is insinuated by those qualified to speak on the matter, that no pardons will be granted for an indefinite period to those who led in the late insurrection, or those who accepted office in the United States, in a civil or military capacity, previous to the rebellion. The same authority states that the reasons which have influenced the President in thus restricting the issue of pardons are of a political character, resulting from the recent elections.

Benjamin C. Truman, formerly war correspondent, and latterly on special Government duty in the Southern States, has been appointed special post office agent for California and the Pacific coast, and has started westward.

Mr. Baker, United States Death and Burial Recorder, in the Quartermaster's Department, has received intelligence from Texas denying the report that the authorities there had refused to allow the bodies of those who fell in the contending armies to be mutually interred in the same burial grounds. It is stated that the reports were based on pure political fabrications.

The Tribune's Washington special says: It is currently reported that Major Gen. Kilpatrick, U. S. Consul for Chili, is to be recalled, and A. J. Rogers, of New Jersey, will be appointed to fill that mission.

Latest from South America.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The Herald's Panama correspondence says: Intelligence has been received from Peru to the 22d ult. Gen Castillo has been arrested for complicity in the conspiracy to depose Prado.

The election for President was progressing at the polls.

In the peace negotiations now being carried on between Spain and Peru, the latter State respects all Spanish claims for church property, and if Spain refuses the proposition, Peru will prosecute the war with renewed vigor.

At a grand banquet given at Quito, in honor of the Chilian Independence, on the 18th of September, Mr. Coggshall, the American Minister, made a speech of congratulation on the promising aspect of the Spanish war, and his sentiments were loudly applauded by those present.

Bolivia, on the 26th of September, demanded an explanation from Brazil of the latter's conduct in aiding the Spanish fleet at Rio, after its defeat at Callao. The demand was couched in threatening language.

The California steamer yesterday brought $559,568 in treasure.

The Baltimore Imbroglio—The Matter to be Brought Before Congress.

NEW YORK, November 10.—The Tribune's Baltimore special says: The action of the President and Governor Swann in connection with the late election in Maryland will be brought before Congress for investigation. A majority of the Judges of Election in Baltimore have signed a memorial to Congress protesting against the admission of Archer and Phelps to seats, on the grounds of illegal registration by Governor Swann's registrars, and stating their belief if the registry law had been properly enforced that Thomas and Stewart would have been elected.

The Lord Bond Robbery.

NEW YORK, November 10.—Mr. Frank Hellen, the Wall street broker, who is charged with complicity in the Lord bond robbery, was brought before Justice Dowling yesterday. The evidence taken was the statement of Mr. Lord and the prisoner. The latter said that eight coupons were bought of a stranger by him on the last day of October, which proved afterwards to be a portion of those stolen from Mr. Lord, but he was ignorant of it at the time. The case will be continued this afternoon. The prisoner on giving $40,000 bail was released from custody.

Failure of the Downieville Gold Mining Company.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The Downieville Gold Mining Company, whose office was at 70 Wall street, was found to have failed yesterday, and a number of stock brokers were badly victimized. The market was found to be flooded with their worthless shares. A civil suit was immediately commenced against Messrs. Ritchy and Wheeler, who appear to have been connected with the company, on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, and they were lodged in the county jail yesterday in default of $15,000 bail each.

The Evening Star Disaster—Official Report.

NEW YORK, November 10.—The official report of the Government agents upon the Evening Star disaster is published. As already published, they found nothing to condemn in the vessel, but condemn in strong terms the lack of hands aboard the vessel, and the fact that there was no carpenter on board. They recommend changes in the laws to provide further protection in these respects.

A Discarded Husband in Trouble.

NEW YORK, November 10.—Geo. Weikler, a discarded husband, last night assaulted his wife and her paramour, named Francis Bangor, with a knife. Bangor is in a critical condition. The wife will recover. Weikler was arrested.

Stock and Real Estate Broker.

FOR SALE—400 Acres of Coal Land, lying immediately upon the Ohio River, 20 miles below Gallipolis, and 185 miles above Cincinnati. On the above tract is a four foot vein of Coal, which, for general purposes, is not surpassed. It is entirely different from the Southern Ohio Coal; contains no sulphur, forges and cokes well, and for making steam cannot be excelled. The location being about midway from Pomeroy and Hanging Rock, must make it valuable for coaling boats. There is a water front of ¾ of a mile, with a good landing at all stages of the river. An entrance has been run in the hill about 300 feet, track finished to river, together with the necessary fixtures for mining and delivering coal afloat. On said tract is first-class double Portable Circular Saw Mill together with a Portable Grist Mill, all in good running order, and plenty of the very best oak, ash and poplar timber. Would sell one-half interest if desired, to a party with experience and capital for working same.

Stock and Real Estate Broker,
oc19 No. 102 Fourth street.

FOR SALE—231 acres Coal, including 51 acres surface, on the East side of the Ohio River, three miles above Wheeling, with right of way to river. The close proximity to a good market at Wheeling, together with the fact that the coal crops out high enough in the hill to be used profitably for rolling mill purposes, makes this a good investment.

PURE CALIFORNIA WINES.
GURNER & CO.,
No. 80 Cedar St., New York,

Offer for sale these valuable Wines, which are gaining public favor with astonishing rapidity, and whose unprecedented and unrivalled popularity is not without merit. They have only to be fairly tested to give them the preference over all others. As a purifier of blood they excel all other Wines, and the numerous certificates which have voluntarily been tendered from the most eminent physicians, as well as gentlemen in every position in life, are proof conclusive that these Wines are useful in all cases for which they are recommended.

The following brands are now offered by us. They comprise all the varieties now grown in the State suitable for sale:

WHITE, or HOCK WINE—Of a light straw color, very delicate and fine flavored.

CLARET—A superior wine for table use.

ANGELICA—A rich and naturally sweet wine, much admired by ladies, and valuable in the sick chamber, as it makes fine wheys and jellies. It is a fine dessert wine, and well adapted for Communion purposes.

MUSCATEL—A light colored, highly aromatic wine. Very similar to the celebrated Tokay.

PORT—Deep red color, fine flavor, and in many respects similar to the old wines of Lisbon.

GRAPE BRANDY—The pure distillation of our wines.

WINE BITTERS—A very agreeable tonic and a sure remedy for the diarrhea.

This is one of the most valuable combinations of a useful and an agreeable beverage that has ever been offered to the public. Millions of bottles were sold throughout the North during the last four years, and wherever introduced it has proved a welcome addition to the invalid table, the family circle, and the bachelor's sideboard.

Ladies who have lost strength and appetite, and suffer from nausea, vomiting and vertigo; gentlemen who "don't feel very well" just before breakfast or dinner whose stomachs are out of order and whose systems are generally deranged; mothers weaning children and suffering from general debility; children of sickly nature and sour, dyspeptic constitutions; travelers who have occasion to change their water; and all who live in malarious districts and are subject to miasmatic influences, will find it one of the most valuable invigorators that can be taken.

It was used very extensively in 1861, with such general satisfaction that in offering it to the public now we deem it unnecessary to publish any of the many certificates that we have received, testifying in the very strongest terms in its favor. All that we can say is to guarantee that we will pledge ourselves to furnish an article PURE AND UNADULTERATED.

It has been given to little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill has been exhausted, has been entirely restored. She began with but a teaspoonful a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased and she is now well.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

SATURDAY, November 10, 1866.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Robinson, McClean & Co., were as follows: Gold, 145¼; 1881's, 114¼; 5-20's, '62, 110¼; do, '65, 107⅛; do, new, July issue, 110; 7-30s, 1st series, 107⅛; second and third, 105⅞. Michigan Southern R. R., 91¾; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 92; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 109¼; Erie R. R., 84⅝; Union Telegraph Company, 51⅞; Chicago & North Western, 37⅞; Chicago & Rock Island, 109¾; Alton & Terre Haute, 50.

The New York market, it will be seen, shows a marked decline, notwithstanding last evening's statement of a growing ease in the money market. Contrary to predictions from various quarters, gold has fallen, rather than risen. It seems to us most probable, that we may look for yet lower figures. The result of the elections will be favorably construed in Europe, of which the first evidence will be a fresh demand for Five Twenties. To give impetus to this demand, we have the virtual settlement of the Mexican trouble, and the decline in rates of interest at the Bank of England, and on the Continent. Other causes, such as the curtailment of the currency, by a withdrawal of greenbacks, and compounds, the steady and rapid extinguishment of the public debt, the large and accumulating surplus of coin, conspire to produce the same result.

We notice that the new Five Twenties of 1865, November issue, have been introduced upon the London market at two per cent below the 1862 bonds. The current difference paid to-day in New York is 2⅞ to 3¼. These bonds are really of the same value, and are fast approximating the same figure in the market. We would advise the holders of '62's in this market, to exchange them for the new '65's, or the new July's, while they can get a premium, for they will soon pass under the same quotations, both here and in the European markets.

The past week has been barren of special interest in the local market. Governments have ruled steadily at ½@¾ above New York quotations, and stand at that to-day. City and County bonds have been heavy with no sales. Several large eastern lots have been offered in this market without bringing out acceptable bids. Robinson, McClean & Co. are paying the highest market price for the Bonds of Lawrence, Butler and Mercer counties. Bank shares have moved quick at good round prices whenever offered throughout the week. Holders are firm, and but few sales are made. Bridge and Gas stocks come but rarely upon the market; we cannot report a sale during the week. We have 90 bid for Monongahela Navigation Bonds—a good investment at even higher figures.

Allegheny Valley Railroad First Mortgage 7-30s firmly held at 90. Pittsburgh and Connellsville at 83@83½. Sales of the stock at $10. But little doing in oils. Columbia rather heavy at 16@16¼. Bidders not willing to go above 15½@15¾. Sales of Triumph at $1, and stock withdrawn at same bid. Reports of a new strike in the property caused the withdrawal. We are yet without reliable information as to the value of the strike. Great hopes are expressed. Marine moves slow; sales during the week at 2¼@2¾, and closes weak at the former figure bid.

—The November statement of the national debt shows a decrease since the October statement of $22,623,736 34 in the amount of debt, less coin in the treasury, and of $19,889,734 93 in the actual aggregate of the debt, which is $2,681,966 34. The amount of coin in the treasury has reached the enormous total of $99,413,018 55, being an increase of $12,153,109 29 since the last statement. The temporary loan has finally disappeared from the statement, the account having been paid off and closed. An effort has been made to reduce the compound interest notes, and has brought down the aggregate $7,000,000. There is an increase of $1,000,000 in the six per cent currency bonds. In the cancelling of greenbacks, the department has got rid of $8,979,507, and an increase of more than half a million of fractional currency.

—The government, through some of its custom house agents, having refused silver coin for sums less than $5, in payment of duties, has provoked an examination of the subject. The act of Congress of 1853 reducing the weight of silver coin provides that the new pieces "shall be legal tender in payment of debts for all sums not exceeding $5." Taking advantage of this provision, some ingenious importers years ago attempted to divide an invoice of iron into a large number of small circles, and thus pay all the duties in silver. The revenue officers then arbitrarily refused all payments of silver except for fractions of a dollar. But Secretary Chase issued a circular recognizing the right of every importer to include not exceeding $5 in silver in each payment for duties. This is undoubtedly in accordance with the law. It is clear that the law was designed for convenience; and a debtor who comes within $5 of the amount of any debt in gold can make up the rest in silver coin.

—We see it stated, on the authority of a Washington correspondent, that Secretary McCulloch's forthcoming report will contain a recommendation from Special Revenue Commissioner Welles for considerable of a reduction in the present tariff and in the internal taxes. The revenue for the next fiscal year is estimated at over six hundred millions of dollars, which is more than is needed for an economical administration of the Government. It will not be forgotten, however, that a bill passed the House at the last session increasing the taxes, and that it will come up before the Senate at the coming session.

New York Financial Matters.

NEW YORK, November 10.—Money easy at 5@6 per cent. for call loans. Sterling Exchange steady at 109@109½. Gold lower, opening at 146, advancing to 146⅛, and closing at 144⅞. Government stocks quiet and steady. Freights to Liverpool are quiet.

The Commercial's money article says: To-day money is decidedly easier, and apparently more so than is due, simply to its being Saturday. Some banks still ask 6 per cent., but the general rate on call loans is 5 per cent. Foreign Exchange nominal, as usual on Saturday. The Stock market is comparatively quiet. At the morning Board prices were generally lower, the decline ranging ½ to 1 per cent. on the Railway list. Governments more in demand and generally ⅛c better, except Five-Twenties of 1864, which are ⅛c lower.

The Post's money article says: The Loan market is easy at 5@6 on call. The discount demand being light, prime endorsed bills pass at 6, good endorsed ninety days at 6½@7, and good single names at 7@8. The Stock market is dull and irregular. Governments quiet and firm. Railroad Shares are rather lower. After the regular board the quotations were: N. Y. C., 116⅞; Erie, 83¾; Reading, 116⅛; M. S., 90⅞; Pittsburgh, 91⅞; N. W., 56; N. W. pref., 78⅞; Toledo, 118; R. I., 109. Foreign Exchange closed firm for the steamer bills at 60 days on London at 108¾@108⅞; for commercial, 109@109½; for bankers do at short sight, 110¼@110¾.

LATEST.

The week closes upon a much easier money market, and call loans have settled down to 4@5 per cent. A great effort of certain banks and banking and stock firms to put money up to 6@7 per cent. early in the week and thereby create a panic, was a most signal failure. The Discount market is dull at 6@7 per cent. for prime paper. The Open Board of Brokers is steadily increasing in prosperity, and we are informed that its roll of members will include some of the most prominent operators not now belonging to any board. The Gold market was dull to to the close, and left off at 144¾. The market for Foreign Exchange dull after the sailing of the packets. Rates were entirely nominal.

Government securities were quiet this afternoon, at the following quotations. Registered 1881, 114¼@114¾, coupons of '81, 114⅞@114⅞; 5-20 registered '62, 107½@107¾; 5-20 coupons of '62, 110¼@110⅝; do coupons of '64, 107⅝@107⅞; do of '65, 107⅝@107⅞; 15-40 registered 100½@101; do coupons, 100½@100¾; August 7 3-10, 107½@107¾; June do, 105⅞@106; July do, 105⅞@106; June coupons of '64, 116⅞@117; July do, 116¼@116½; August do, 115⅞@116; October do, 114⅞@115; December do, 113⅞@114; May do, 112¼@112½; August do, 110⅞@111; September, 110¼@110½; October, 109⅞@110.

Among coal shares Butler was the great feature and sold largely from 20 up to 21¼. The company has been dividend paying for several years—4 per cent. last February. There is no floating debt or mortage, and we understand another dividend is not far off. Wilkesbarre was strong and quite active, at 73.

The stock market towards the close of the day was generally steady, although Erie fell off to 82¾. The following were the closing prices at 4:30 this afternoon; New York Central, 118@119¼; Erie 84¼@85; Hudson, 125@125; Reading, 116@116¼; Michigan Southern, 91@91½.

Baltimore Cattle Market.

BALTIMORE, November 8.—Beef Cattle—The offerings at the scales during the past week amounted to 1585 head, against 1440 last week. Prices to-day ranged as follows: Scalawags at $4, common cattle $5@6, fair $6,25@6,50, good $7@7,25, and prime beeves at $7,50@7,75 per 100 lbs. The market was very slow. We would particularly give notice to the graziers of Hartfort and Baltimore counties that next week some very fine stock cattle will be offered. Sheep—The supply was in excess of the demand, and market very dull; prices ranged from 4 to 5½c per lb—a decline. Hogs—Supply good this week and prices drooping, and market dull, sales at $11@13 per 100 lbs net.

Chicago Cattle Market.

CHICAGO, November 9.—The fresh receipts of Beef Cattle to-day at the Union Stock Yards are 304 head. Entered sales, 552 head, at prices ranging from $3,95@4,25 for common cows, $4,50@5,50 for good butchers cows and steers, and from $6,25@7,05 for good to choice shipping beeves. The market is dull and weak at yesterday's prices, and several lots [illegible] on owners' account. Pack-

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
SATURDAY, November 10, 1866. }

The produce markets have been rather dull during the last day or two, and the buoyancy and excitement which prevailed during the early part of the week in Flour and Grain, has subsided, and, generally speaking, holders are more anxious to realize. Provisions very dull, while Groceries are quiet and unchanged and, indeed, the same remarks will apply to many other articles, which it is unnecessary to enumerate. As yet, however, there has been no remarkable changes in values worthy of special notice.

ASHES—Steady but unchanged. Sales of Soda at 6 for common, and 6¼ for refined. Pearls nominal at 14—stock light.

APPLES—The supply is considerably ahead of the demand, and with free arrivals and adverse reports from the east, the market is dull, though prices are nominally unchanged, at $2¼ to $3¼ per bbl.

GRAIN—There is little or no demand for Wheat, and No. 1 Spring is quoted nominal at $2,55@2,65. Barley is dull and too irregular to quote correctly; sale of 1 car to go out of the market, on private terms. Oats less active and a shade easier; sales in store at 56 to 58. Sale of 75 sacks new Ear Corn at 80—prime old shelled is quoted at $1,08 to $1,10. Rye is held at $1,20 to $1,25.

FLOUR—Is less active and a shade easier, and while the tendency is downward, as yet, prices have undergone no quotable change, and we continue to quote in store at $12½ to $13 for Spring wheat, and $13½@14 for Winter. Sales of Rye Flour at $8@8½, and Buckwheat at $4 to $4½ per cwt.

MILL FEED—Sale of 2 cars prime White Middlings at $1,95, and 1 car Bran at 90. Seconds may be quoted at $1,45 to $1,50.

PROVISIONS—There is no improvement to note in the demand for Bacon, and prices are nominally unchanged. Lard is quoted at 15 to 15¼, for prime kettle rendered. No movement in Mess Pork.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in good demand, and we can report sales at $3 to $3,10—the outside figure being paid at the mills. There is very little doing in Timothy or Cloverseeds.

SALT—Is reported firm, with a steady demand, and regular sales at $2,80, on track, and $2,90 to $3, in store.

SORGHUM—Is dull but unchanged—small sales of prime at 70 to 75.

BUTTER—Continues rather dull but unchanged—sales of prime to choice Roll at 30 to 33.

EGGS—Steady, with regular sales of fresh packed at 30.

CRANBERRIES—Steady with regular sales at $15 per bbl for common, and $20 for cultivated.

CHEESE—Continues dull but nominally unchanged; we continue to quote at 16 for Western Reserve; 17 to 18 for Hamburg; 19 for Factory, and 20 for Goshen.

POTATOES—Prime Jersey Sweets are reported steady at $5 per bbl. Prime Peach Blows at $2,50 per bbl.

PIG LEAD—Sales of 200 pigs at 11¼.

ONIONS—Steady, with regular sales at $2,75 to $3 per bbl.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
SATURDAY, November 10, 1866. }

CRUDE—There is no improvement to note in the demand for Crude, and while holders generally, are anxious to realize, prices compared with yesterday, have undergone no quotable change, ranging from 10¾ to 11 cts, in bulk, and barrels returned, and 15½ to 16, bbls included—Sale of 600 bbls at 10¾; 1000 at 11; and 450 at 11. It is but proper to remark in this connection, that toward the close, there was considerable oil offering at 10¾, without finding buyers, although, we have no doubt, a considerable amount could be sold at 10, as there are parties at present willing to pay that price to put in tank on speculation. The market has ruled rather weak and unsettled throughout the entire week, and as our refiners are pretty well supplied, and there is not much inquiry for Refined, the indications at present, point to a lower scale of prices, though, it is impossible that there might be a reaction, and that, too, before many days, but it is hardly probable. We have no late advices from Oil City, but the eastern intelligence is not favorable.

REFINED—There was rather more activity in bonded oil to-day, but prices are no better—in fact, the reverse of this is the case. We can report sales of 1000 bbls for December delivery in Philadelphia, at 36; 500 do at 35½; 500 do at 35; 500 for November, at 35; 500 for December, at 35½; 1000 at 35; and 250, immediate, at 34½. Quotations may be fairly given at 34½ to 35, for this month, and 35½ to 36 for December—deduct 6 to 6½ cents per gallon and you have the price delivered on cars here. There is little or no demand for free oil, and the market is dull, and good standard brands cannot be fairly quoted above 50 cts, while common brands can doubtless be had 2 to 3 cents below the above figure.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

Lockart & Frew	600	D. M. Edgerton	1000
Fisher & Bro	900	Brewer & Burke	44

Total	2544
Total Receipts for the week	77,392
Total Receipts on recent rise	99,929
Total since Jan. 1	894,936

RIVER NEWS.

The river fell about four inches at this point during the forty-eight hours ending last evening, at which time the marks indicated three feet eight inches. Weather cloudy and unsettled, with indications of more rain. Considerable rain fell during Saturday night and Sunday morning, and it is possible that a slight rise may result therefrom.

The Glasgow and Argosy left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Friday, and the Pine Grove and Ezra Porter were advertised to follow on Saturday.

The steamer Wild Wagoner, formerly of the Peoples' Cincinnati and Louisville Line was sold at auction at the latter place on Friday last to Capt. J. B. Ford of New Albany for $15,000.

The Quickstep left for Cincinnati on Saturday, with a fair trip, and the Kate Kutnam cleared the same evening for St. Louis. The latter boat had all the freight she could take on boat and barge, and a large number of passengers. The little steamer Flicker left for New Orleans. The Quickstep had a moderate trip, including a fair number of passengers.

Capts. Ebbert and Peppard, of the Yorktown, were in the city on Saturday, and from them we learned that the Yorktown will be off the dock to-day or to-morrow, and will load in turn for St. Louis.

The Amelia Poe left Cincinnati, for Pittsburgh, on Friday, and if she meets with no bad luck will reach here to-morrow.

The Nora, Capt. Devinney, is now in turn for Cincinnati, and will be the first boat out for that point. Capt. Devinney expects to get off to-morrow evening, and passengers and shippers should bear this fact in mind.

The Sherman, Capt. Crane, is now in turn for St. Louis, and will soon be ready to take her departure. This boat has superior accommodations for passengers.

The Bayard, Capt. Geo. D. Moore, with his brother Dan in the office, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon.

The Armenia, Capt. A. C. McCallum, is filling up slowly for New Orleans, as is also the Camelia, Capt. Lytle, for Nashville.

The Leonora No. 2 and the Argosy arrived at Cincinnati on Thursday, and the Amelia Poe, Pine Grove, Glasgow and Argosy were advertised to leave for Pittsburgh on Friday. The towboats Lake Erie No. 3 and Warner, and six pair of floating coal boats arrived at Louisville on Thursday, and the Kate Robinson, en route from Pittsburgh to St. Louis, passed Evansville the same day. The America, en route from Pittsburgh to New Orleans, was at Cairo on Wednesday last.

The Leonidas, Capt. Cox, loads in turn at Cincinnati for New Orleans after the Amazon. The Argosy, on her recent down trip, made the run to Cincinnati in forty-seven hours, including nineteen landings. She reshipped a considerable amount of freight for New Orleans.

The Madison Free Press has the following in regard to the great low pressure steamer City of Richmond, building in that city for Captain J. S. and R. E. Neal, of the famous Indiana:

The monster steamer Richmond, now approaching completion at the Marine Ways of Messrs. Vance, Armstrong & Co., will have two or three new ideas embraced in her construction that are worthy of mention. She will have an observatory built aft, to be reached by a stairway running from the ladies' cabin, to accommodate thirty or forty persons. The observatory will be fifteen feet high, be enclosed, and be constructed entirely of frame and sash work. In connection with this, she will have a cabin for colored persons, adjoining the nursery, which will be complete in its details. The state-rooms of the Richmond will be the largest and most commodious ever placed upon a boat; they will be in the forward cabin, six by twelve in size, and in the lady's cabin seven by twelve, and will be furnished with bedsteads, chairs, a table, &c., and be connected by doors, so that they may be thrown into suits of rooms.

The Cincinnati Commercial, of Saturday, says:

Capt. Adam Albert, an old Cincinnati and New Orleans pilot, died at his residence in the Seventeenth Ward, on Thursday. The steamer St. Charles and the Peoples' Line Wharf boat will be sold at auction this morning, where they now lie. Captain Charles W. Batchelor will arrive from Pittsburgh to-day, and leave for New Orleans on the Alice Dean, the guest of his brother, Capt. Frank Y. Batchelor.

Spring and Summer Medicine.

FLUID EXTRACT
SARSAPARILLA,
COMBINED WITH
Iodide of Lime,
PREPARED FOR
G. W. PETTES, BOSTON,
BY
James R. Nichols & Co.
MANUFACTURING CHEMISTS,
MANUFACTURERS OF THE
ELIXIR PERUVIAN BARK
WITH Protoxide of Iron,
Which has become so favorably known as a
Tonic and Restorative,
By Physicians and Invalids in all parts of the country.

The new preparation, "SARSAPARILLA IN A COMBINATION WITH IODIDE OF LIME, presents one of the most prompt alterative agents in a form capable of exerting full action upon the system, and this in minute and pleasant doses. It is conceded that the alterative, resolvent, or tonic effects of Iodine, are exerted most decidedly when associated with other alteratives, in combination; and the Sarsaparilla seems to fulfil perfectly all the favorable requisitions.

The first effect usually observed when "SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME" is taken, is an increase of appetite, showing that it has tonic properties of a marked character. Its alterative effects are manifest in its ready combination with the blood and tissues. Pale, scrofulous women and children improve rapidly under its use, and the vital functions assume a healthy condition.

It is admirably adapted to a large number of chronic or acute affections peculiar to children. It is suited to them, both by the mildness and efficiency of Medicinal effect and the pleasant, attractive form of the remedy. It may be given for a long period where constitutional influences are desired, and no repugnance, or disinclination to take the syrup, encountered. In White-Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, and Distortions of the Spine, it should be given persistently, in moderate doses, until relief is obtained.

The accumulation of morbid matters in the system seems to become manifest and very troublesome. Lassitude, Headache, Boils, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Pains in the Joints, Indigestion, etc., are very common. Nothing ever devised is better adapted to exterminate or drive off these affections than this new combination of SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME.

No preparation like it, or which approximates to it as an

has ever before been placed within the reach of invalids. Indeed, it is an entirely NEW and SCIENTIFIC combination in no respect resembling anything hitherto employed.

The opinion of medical men concerning it, the description of its chemical character, therapeutic value, manner of use, etc., are given in a circular, which can be had at the store of any and all first-class Druggists.
